This is a classic German road trip filled with churches, castles and half-timbered houses, a drive that takes you through mountains, pristine farmland and bustling cities.

The itinerary begins in Munich and continues to one of the finest of Mad King Ludwig II's castles. From there, it's on to the Romantic Strasse, or "Romantic Road." Linking Fussen in the Allgaeu Alps with the Baroque splendors of Wurzburg in the wine country of Franconia, this was a route favored by Romans, crusaders and pilgrims.

The 350-mile-long Romantic Road passes through some of the most important historic towns in Germany, such as Dinkelsbuhl, Rothenburg-ob-der-Tauber and Nördlingen, towns that evoke a true medieval ambiance, or "Gemütlichkeit." These are towns where a centuries-old Rathaus, or town hall, is but one of many preserved buildings.

Then it's on to Baden-Baden, Germany's most sophisticated and historic spa town. From there, head to the well-preserved university town of Heidelberg before ending in Frankfurt, the financial crossroads of Germany.
